Profile

I am an enthusiastic, highly motivated and very ambitious person. I enjoy working as an individual or within a team helping in producing new concepts and ideas while being able to move capably between tasks.

Current Status

I'm currently working as a web designer, and front-end programmer for a small design studio called Love Creative UK. I help out with all processes within the studio which can be anything from working on basic email marketing newsletters to fully fledged websites.

My main skills are in website design and front-end coding. I can create immaculate CSS/HTML coding and am fluent in the latest web technologies like HTML5 and CSS3. I'm also no stranger to using jQuery to help enrich designs. As a regular user of Wordpress I have developed a good understanding of php and also know my way around a MySQL database.

As a bit of a self confessed design geek I'm constantly advancing my knowledge of programs like Photoshop, Illustrator, Coda, TextMate, Dreamweaver, InDesign, and CMS Management Systems.
